Chapter 1

Preamble

Memory, knowledge, lives, even identities, all is distributed. We are socially fragmented. It could be used as an argument for a non-local consciousness theory. Therefore, with this text, I am just trying to compile pieces of what I have been in order to know a bit better what I am know. I have been told in the past that there is wisdom in the text that I wrote, and I am certainly sure that there is wisdom in the texts that I received. I hope you find something that makes your life more meaningful and satisfactory. I hope you find on some of these words a bunch of human beings that, like you, have suffered and have enjoyed moments of their lives.

Wish you the best,

Carlito Fluito, a.k.a. Carlos Alcalá

Viki, you are now just ink on the paper. There is an amazing blond guy of 2 years old and a half.

He is discovering life.

He smiles, he laughs. It's wonderful.

Knowing. Everything is new. Llama, es listo. Lo sabe todo sin saber. Oye sin oír. Siente sin sentir. Se ríe. Observa. Aprende. Comunica con la cara.
